

OUR OPENING

Will continue until WEDNESDAY, at noon.

Our display of Seal and Plush garments is in charge of a representative of Rendigs, Davailion & Co., Cincinnati, O.

Messrs. Rendigs, Davailion & Co. are known as "the new firm," who were for many years connected with A. E. Burkhardt & Co., and some six months ago went into business for themselves. Mr. Davailion, of the new firm, is the celebrated French designer and fitter, well known to the ladies of our city, and looks after this important branch of their extensive business, insuring perfect fitting garments, such as he alone can produce. He has just invented and secured the patent for a great improvement in Seal Cloaks, known as the Davailion Patent Elastic Fly. No Seal garment is complete without this great improvement, and is manufactured and used by them exclusively.

A VOICE

From the Executive Mansion.

MR. A. K. HAWKES—Dear Sir: The panti-scope glasses you furnished me some time since give excellent satisfaction. I have tested them by use, and must say they are unequalled in clearness and brilliancy by any that I have ever worn. Respectfully,
JOHN B. GORDON,
Governor of Georgia.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Explosion of the Powder Works Near Wilmington, Del.

TEN PERSONS INSTANTLY KILLED

Their Bodies Torn to Pieces, Making Recognition Impossible—Many Others Seriously Injured—One Hundred Dwellings Either Demolished or Badly Damaged.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 8.—A terrific explosion, resulting in the loss of ten lives, the injuring of many people and the destruction of much property, occurred yesterday afternoon, at 3:25 o'clock in the upper yard of the extensive powder works of E. I. Dupont, De McMours & Company, on Brandywine creek, three miles north of this city. The shock was keenly felt here, and caused intense excitement. Buildings trembled and windows were demolished. Instantly everybody almost rushed to the doors to ascertain the cause of the disturbance.

There were six reports resembling the booming of cannon and about a second apart. The first thought was that there had been an explosion at the powder works, but the reports seeming so near and not being characterized by the usual rumbling, and there being no smoke visible in the direction of the mills, it was imagined that the explosion had occurred in the city. The hazy atmosphere hid the smoke and caused the reports to sound differently from those of preceding explosions.

Physicians who had been summoned by telephone, and who were soon hurrying towards the powder manufactory, was the first indication the public had of the exact location of the catastrophe. Immediately thereafter throngs of people went to the scene of the disaster. The instant the explosion was heard the representative of the United Press, rightly conjecturing the cause, procured a carriage and rapidly drove to the powder works. When he reached Mount Salem Methodist Episcopal church, a mile from the city, and saw broken frames in the church windows he felt sure that his surmises were correct. More than one-half of the window sashes of the large building were out, and of those that remained the glass was broken.

Soon thereafter a cloud of blueish smoke was seen and the smell of burning powder was observed. Following a curve in the road the reporter beheld an appalling spectacle. Women and children, wives, sons and daughters of men employed in the powder manufactory were madly rushing here and there seeking information about the safety of their loved ones. The yard in which the mills stood was littered with debris of fallen buildings, and at some places where buildings had been the only trace left was empty cellars and a few foundation stones.

The little village of Duponts Banks, immediately outside the powder yard, presented a most pitiable appearance. A hundred dwellings were either demolished or badly damaged. Buildings were unroofed, fronts of houses were blown out and wrecked. Inside the dwellings the devastation was complete. The rooms on the ground floor were strewn with broken crockery, crushed stoves and remnants of tables, etc.

The soda mills, a large stone building about 200 yards from the magazines, is wrecked. The roof of the charcoal mills fell, and the buildings themselves took fire from the furnaces. Effective use of the fire apparatus at the works soon extinguished the fires. Where the conning and packing house stood there are holes in the ground ten feet deep. The large storage magazine containing several tons of powder and built of corrugated iron, is situated about a quarter of a mile from the wrecked mills. It, with another smaller mill, escaped; also the glazing room and press room.

Four of the Duponts and several clerks were in the office when the explosion took place. Every window was blown in and much of the plastering fell from the walls, but beyond scratches, bruises and cuts no one was hurt.

Two horses being driven through the yard were killed, while their driver escaped.

William R. Green was working in the magazine that blew up first. He was packing powder for the government. It is supposed that his soldering iron became too hot and ignited the powder.

Ten men have been killed; the bodies of but two have been found. While daylight lasted portions of the other bodies were being collected, a leg here, an arm there, a piece of the trunk in another place.

The list of the dead so far reported is as follows:

William R. Green, a soldier, leaves widow and four children. His body was found whole but so badly blackened as to be barely recognizable.

William McGarvey, laborer, aged 40, single, head blown off.

Martin Dolan, aged 65, employed in the graining mill, leaves a family.

Jim Dolan, a laborer, aged 60, single.

John H. Harrigan, laborer, married, aged 30.

Michael Harrigan, laborer.

Patrick Dougherty, aged 30, single.

John Newell, laborer, aged 50, leaves a family.

John Herlihe, laborer.

Mrs. Rosie Dougherty, aged 80, found crushed by the roof of her house.

All the names given above were men employed in and about the mills that exploded and, with the exception of Green and McGarvey, their bodies have not been found.

The injured are as follows:

Daniel Harkins, aged 70, fatally.

Patrick Gilpin, badly hurt. He was standing in the door of his house

Thomas Dougherty, aged 5 months, seriously injured by having a stove fall on him.

William Logue, head badly cut.

Mrs. Lizzie F. Anderson, arm broken and internally injured.

Hugh Ferry, ribs crushed.

James Ward, leg lacerated.

Winfield Thaters, eye torn out.

In the excitement and confusion it was impossible to obtain a complete list of the wounded. It is known that scores were cut by flying glass and bruised by falling beams and timbers. It is estimated that between seven and ten tons of powder were exploded. Some say two or three times that much. The total loss will be from $200,000 to $500,000. The company is rich and will begin to rebuild at once.

THE WRECKED SALOON.

Further Particulars of the Battle at Morgantown, Indiana.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 8.—Further particulars have been received here of the wrecking of Rad Huff's saloon at Morgantown, twelve miles east of here, Monday night. On Friday it seems that several Morgantown "toughs" got drunk and attempted to "clean out" one of the saloons of that place. They got the worst of it, however. A general fight was kept up during almost the entire day, revolvers, knives, clubs and bowlders being used in the melee.

Two women let their anger get the best of them on the same day and indulged in a regular hair-pulling and scratching match. One of these, who came out best in the match, went directly into her home and called a physician. On coming out he was asked if the woman was much hurt, and replied, "Oh, no; she has just safely delivered a child." All this happened in a very short time.

Monday morning the saloon of Rad Huff was totally destroyed by a heavy explosion of dynamite. Pool-tables and all the fixtures were blown to atoms and the building is utterly wrecked. Another saloon is run by William Musselman, and would no doubt have suffered a similar fate but for the fact that he and his family live over the saloon.

FAMINE IN OKLAHOMA.

The Government's Appropriation Will Not Go Far Towards Relief.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 8.—Chairman Eaton, of Henesay, and the committee appointed by Governor Steele, of Oklahoma, to purchase provisions with the government appropriation recently granted, arrived here Sunday and commenced operations. They report the condition of large numbers of the settlers in the new territory as decidedly bad, and say that the $47,000 appropriated will not go far toward relieving the distress that has only just commenced.

The winter is looked forward to with many forebodings, and there will doubtless be frequent demands for substantial aid. The colored people in the black jack country are in deplorable circumstances. They went into the country with nothing, and haven't even the meagre crops their white neighbors managed to raise.

Bitten by a Rabid Dog.

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 8.—Last Tuesday Gracie, aged 7; Jet, aged about 9, and Chrissie, aged 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac T. Brown, of Wirt, were bitten by the family watchdog, which was afterwards found to be afflicted with rabies. Saturday, the parents becoming alarmed, brought their children to the city and crossed over to Milton, where the famous Lane madstone was applied to their wounds. The stone adhered to the bite Gracie received nine hours and twenty minutes, and to the other two children a lesser space of time. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are now feeling more hopeful of the result. Several head of cattle and five or six hogs were also bitten by the dog, and show the symptoms of hydrophobia.

Arrested for Peddling Stamps.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 8.—At a late hour Monday evening the city marshal arrested two suspicious characters who were going from house to house peddling postage stamps. They were placed in jail to await the arrival of a government official. When examined two revolvers and a large number of stamps worth four, five and ten cents were found. The young men gave their names as George Bender and Charles Wolf, and they are thought to be members of the gang which is systematically robbing postoffices in this section.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 8.—Tunis V. Palmer, 33 years of age, who was engaged in the undertaking business, committed suicide last night by hanging himself in his apartment. His wife, to whom he was greatly attached, died a year ago. He leaves two daughters aged 6 and 9 years unprovided for.

A Woman Bitten by a Mad Dog.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Charles Fisher is terribly afflicted. It develops that she was bitten by the same mad dog which caused the death of her son, Louis, last Saturday. She fears she may become a victim of the rabies, and may visit New York to receive Pasteur's treatment.

Married Too Often.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 8.—A few days ago C. L. Arbuckle and Miss Bartholomew were married at this place. Mrs. Eliza J. Arbuckle, of Fairfield, has appeared upon the scene and caused the groom's arrest on a charge of bigamy. She alleges that he has still another wife in Decatur.

Eastern Capital in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—Eastern capitalists have an option on the Columbus electric light plant, and a big deal is on hand. E. T. Mithoff, one of the largest stockholders, is opposed to the sale for the reason that he is satisfied with a 4 per cent. dividend semi-annually.

TRAVELING WEST.

The Presidential Party Reaches Bloomington, Ill.

DEMONSTRATIONS EN ROUTE.

Stops Made at All the Principal Places and Short Speeches and Hand Shaking Freely Indulged In—What the President Said at the Town of His Childhood—A Few Changes Made in the Program.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 8.—The president and party left Cincinnati on time, and at the various stations along the route large crowds were waiting to greet him as the train passed through.

The president's car was attached to a special train composed of an engine and a combination car. Only one stop was made between Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg. The train slowed up for a minute at North Bend in sight of the tomb of William Henry Harrison, and the house where the president was born.

At Lawrenceburg a large crowd was in waiting. The president addressed the crowd from the rear platform. He said:

"My friends, I want to thank you very cordially for this greeting. All the views about here are very familiar. This town of Lawrenceburg is the first village of my childish recollection, and as I have approached it this morning, past the earliest home of my recollection, the home in which my childhood and early manhood were spent, memories crowd in upon me that are very full of interest, very full of pleasure and yet very full of sadness. They bring back to me those who were made the old home very dear, the most precious spot on earth. I have passed with bowed head the place where they rest.

"We are here in our generation with the work of those who have gone before us. Let us see each of us, that in the family, in the neighborhood, and the state we do at least with equal grace, and courage, and kindness, the work which was so bravely, kindly and graciously done by those who filled our places fifty years ago. Now, for I must hurry on, to these old friends and to these new friends who have come in since Lawrenceburg was familiar to me, I extend again my hearty thanks for this welcome."

In conclusion the president introduced Secretary Tracy. The president was visibly affected as he spoke of the scenes of his childhood.

Between Lawrenceburg and North Vernon no regular stops were made. There were large crowds at Aurora, Milan, Osgood, and other stations, and the train slowed up for a minute at each of these places to give the president an opportunity to bow his acknowledgment of the greeting.

A telegram was received from A. C. Daves, of St. Joseph, asking that the president stop at that city Friday morning. An affirmative reply was sent and the president will stop at St. Joseph at 7 o'clock, remaining for an hour.

At North Vernon there was a large crowd at the station. The train stopped long enough for the president to express the pleasure which he felt in seeing old Indiana friends again. At Seymour a band of music and a large assemblage greeted him and the president spoke briefly.

The president spoke for a minute at Shoals, expressing his gratification at the cordiality of his welcome, which he said made him feel that he was still held somewhat in the esteem of the people whose friendship he so much coveted.

The stop at Washington was prolonged, as the train waited for orders there, but the president made no speech. He introduced Secretary Tracy and Gen. Grosvenor to the crowd, and they shook hands with as many as could crowd upon the platform of the car.

There was no stop after Washington until Vincennes was reached, at 1:20, and luncheon was served to the president and his party on the car at 1 o'clock. The president shook hands from the step of the car with a great many people. A committee of fifteen from Terre Haute met the president at Vincennes.

The run from there to Sullivan, thirty miles, was made in thirty-two minutes. At Sullivan the president expressed in a few words his pleasure at seeing his old friends. There were crowds at Shelbyburne and at Farmersburg and at each of these places the train slowed up so as to give the president an opportunity to bow to them. The president's train arrived at Terre Haute thirty minutes before the hour appointed for his coming.

In making up the schedule, Mr. Bishop had made allowance for possible delays, and as the delays had been few and unimportant it was determined to give Terre Haute a half hour earlier in the afternoon and devote more time later to the stop at Danville. A great throng, numbering fully 5,000, filled the space immediately in front of the station, surrounding a platform which had been erected for the occasion. Leaning on the arm of Mr. McKee, the president passed through the crowd and took a seat on the platform. When quiet had in a measure been restored, Mayor Donelson, in a few well chosen words, welcomed the president and introduced him to the assemblage.

The president was greeted with hearty applause, and made a brief speech, after which he introduced Gen. B. F. Tracy, the secretary of the navy. Mr. Tracy, after a few remarks, introduced Gen. Grosvenor, who congratulated the farmers of Indiana on their prosperous appearance.

The president's train left Terre Haute shortly after 4 o'clock. Between Terre Haute and Danville the journey was without noteworthy incidents. The president was called to the platform of the car several times to bow to waiting crowds. Danville was reached at 6 o'clock. There was a great crowd in waiting at Danville, and it was with difficulty that the president made his way to the platform which had been erected near the place where the train stopped, on the outskirts of the city. The president was introduced by Representative Cannon, and made a short speech. He then returned to the train. There was quite a crowd gathered at Urbana, and as the train was held there several minutes for inspection, the president had an opportunity to shake hands with most of them. There was a good crowd at Champaign also. It was nearly 8 o'clock when the train reached that station. Private Secretary Halford's mother, J. W. Spalding and O. Wilcox, of Champaign, who had joined the party at Danville, left it there.

The party will arrive at Topeka at 9:30 instead of 8 o'clock Friday.

AFFAIRS ABROAD.

Germany's New Minister of War Appointed—Other Foreign News.

BRAZIL, Oct. 8.—The appointment of Gen. Von Kaltenborn Strachan as minister of war, succeeding Gen. Verdy Du Vernoy, has been officially announced.

Gen. Von Kaltenborn Strachan served on the general staff in the Austrian-French wars, and lately commanded at Stettin. The appointment, particularly popular with the general staff, is said to be entirely due to the mastery way in which he handled his division during the recent maneuvers at Liegnitz, which attracted the attention of the emperor.

The Trial Again Postponed.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 8.—On the court resuming yesterday Dr. Nadin, who had visited Mr. O'Mahoney, said that that gentleman would not be able to be present at court for at least four days. An adjournment was then taken until Friday. Mr. Dillon says that on Friday Mr. O'Mahoney would come here to reside during the trial.

Ocean Passengers Suicide.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 8.—Two steerage passengers on the steamer Majestic committed suicide during the voyage from New York. The passengers made up a purse of $550 for the widow and children of one of the men.

Insists Upon Being Prosecuted.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—M. Laur, the Boulangist deputy, says that he will insist upon the government's prosecuting him; so that an opportunity may be afforded him to meet and disprove the calumnies which have been put afloat about him.

British Ambassador Dying.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, British ambassador to Persia, is dying.

A BLUFF GIVES WAY.

House and Eleven Inmates Precipitated Into the Riviere du Sub.

QUEBEC, Oct. 8.—A bluff near the village of St. Pierre, thirty miles from here, suddenly tumbled into the Riviere du Sub at 2 o'clock this morning, carrying with it the house, barn and sheds of Mathieu Gaynon, a strip of land half a mile long and 250 yards wide, and eleven inmates of Mr. Gaynon's house, three of whom were killed and the remaining eight badly injured.

Mrs. Gaynon was killed outright. Mr. Gaynon was taken out alive, but died soon afterward. A farm hand named Bauchard is buried under the debris, and all of the eight Gaynon children are seriously hurt.

The disaster was caused by heavy rains, which weakened the bluff until it gave way. The terror-stricken villagers, aroused from sleep by the terrific crash ran to the rescue, and after an hour's hard work succeeded in extricating the dead and wounded.

Failed to Organize.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8.—Joseph L. Evans, master workman of District Assembly No. 3, Knights of Labor, is authority for the statement that the effort to organize the employees of Carnegie & Company, at the Edgar Thomas steel works at Braddock has been abandoned. The Braddock employees of Carnegie & Company number about 4,000 men. The failure to organize the men is attributed to the fact that several years ago the Knights of Labor failed to win a bitterly contested strike.

Poet, Writer, Musician and Teacher Dead.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—Professor John H. Hewitt, the poet, story writer, musician and teacher, died yesterday of heart failure. He was born in New York in 1801 and educated in Boston, where he graduated as a lawyer. Thereafter he edited newspapers in different southern cities until 1830, since which time he has resided here. In 1877 Mr. Hewitt published "Shadows on the Wall," giving interesting recollections of his career.

Sleeper Wrecked.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 8.—The sleeping coach attached to the Salt Lake express on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, due at 11 o'clock this morning, was thrown from the track and overturned in a sharp curve three miles east of Sargent on Marshall Pass. One man is reported killed and several were wounded. No further particulars are obtainable.

Sad Misfortune of an Aged Couple.

MIDDELETOWN, Conn., Oct. 8.—The house occupied by Jehiel Tryon and wife, a aged couple, was burned last night. Mr. Tryon, who was badly burned, managed to crawl to a pig pen where he was found by a neighbor this morning. Mrs. Tryon was found in the ruins burned to a crisp. The couple were over 80 years of age.

Both Were Bogus.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 8.—A young man named George Scott, claiming to be assistant auditor of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in this city, has victimized the Deposit bank at Walton, Ky., of $115. He deposited a check for $35 with the bank and subsequently had another one for $115 cashed. Both were bogus.

Extracts From a Speech of Governor Campbell on the McKinley Tariff Bill.

Features Which Interest the Farmers.
 Taxing the People to Make the People Prosperous.

The Democratic campaign in Ohio was opened by Governor Campbell at Canton, a few days ago. His speech was a masterly argument, and it will repay careful perusal. Following are some extracts from it:

I am an honest farmer that was forced into politics because I could no make a living on the farm. [Laughter.] I sold last year my corn for 25 cents, and my oats for 17 cents, and yet in the McKinley bill one of the greatest blessings is that they have increased the tariff on corn 5 cents and on oats 5 cents. Well, who is going to ship in oats from Europe or Africa and sell them at 17 cents a bushel when the farmer had to burn millions of bushels for fuel? Who is going to bring in corn? They have increased the duty on potatoes. We did not have a potato crop this year, and there is a high duty for us to pay on potatoes, so that one of the great necessities of life is increased in price, and the first result I can think of in the McKinley bill will be that you, gentlemen, and especially the citizens from the Emerald Isle, will have to pay a higher price for the potatoes you eat.

The farmer, it is said, is to have the benefit of this bill. Well, you have had protection, you have had more protection many times over than you ever had before in the last two years, in the last ten years, and in those ten years this protective tariff, that was not high enough, you have seen the farms of Ohio decrease in value, as the appraisers' returns will show, more than $80,000,000. How many years will it take them to dwindle down to nothing? I do not know how much the decrease is in the county of Stark, but I know in the county of Butler, which is the garden spot of earth, where the cities have increased, one double and the other treble, its wealth, that every township in that county has gone down in the appraised value of its farms, and the total is more than $2,000,000. When we get that thoroughly understood down in Butler County our last year's majority will look small when the returns come in. The farmers are humbugged more than any body by the tariff. Just let me give you one or two details, and I will pass to something else. Barley was raised a little, grain a little, oats a little. Eggs have been protected to the extent of 5 cents per dozen under the McKinley bill.

The women will all get rich. Every farmer's wife will get rich. She gets 5 cents a dozen protection on her eggs, and cider is protected 5 cents. Last year the cider revenue in this country amounted to the enormous sum of $94 50. Was not that enough for you fellows who are raising cider? Not satisfied with the enormous revenues that rolled in from the cider traffic of the world, they have raised it to 5 cents, and it would not surprise me if, in the next year, a full round $100 would roll into our treasury. And then there is turnip seed. They had more trouble over turnip seed than anything else. They contended and fought about it between the two Houses. First, the House put 40 per cent. upon turnip seed, for Major McKinley was determined that the farmers of Stark County should vote for him in a mass this time, and thereupon he puts in his bill a tariff of 40 per cent. upon turnip seed. But the Senate, which has never been accused of being friendly to the farmers, (there are no farmers in the Senate) [Laughter.] Whenever a farmer gets to the United States Senate he will be put in a glass case and stuck in the rotunda of the Capitol. [Laughter.] And the poor laboring men in the Senate, earning their forty and twenty and ten millions of dollars by the sweat of their brow, struck out that enactment in regard to turnip seed and put in their free list, striking out thereby the farming interests of the country, but I am proud to say that your fellow-townsmen would not see your fellow-constituents robbed by this Senate, but stuck to turnip seed, and finally his persistence was so great that they compromised and split the difference, and there is now, or will be in a few days in this country, the great blessing of 20 per cent. duty on turnip seed. I shall go home to-morrow and order turnips for dinner before the price goes up. [Laughter.]

And then, not content with that which ought to have satisfied any ordinary Congressman—I was in Congress six years and was never able to get any product as important—not content with that they put a duty of 30 per cent. on straw. The pauper straw of Europe was ruining the farmers of this country. [Loud laughter.] The fact is, and the truth is, that the most of the grain crops we have raised did not hardly bring the price of straw so as to prevent that ruinous competition, and in the line of protection of the home industries, 30 per cent. was added on straw. Then there was another duty put on for the benefit of certain classes of farmers who don't live in Ohio, but the farmers in Florida and California had a duty of 2 cents put upon orange peel. There are only a few people who raise it in this country. I expect there is as much as 10 cents' worth of orange peel used in Canton in a year, and I am willing to bear my share of that burden because I know it protects the struggling agriculturists in Florida and California.

But there is one thing the United States Senate did try to do for the farmers. I believe in giving a gentleman who shall not be named his due. There is one thing, joking aside, that that the Senate did try to do for the farmers which your fellow-townsmen would not let them do. The Senate struck the duty off binding twine. Now, binding twine is made by a trust—a monopoly. As hateful a trust as exists in the world is the trust in binding twine. The Senate struck it out, and the House conferees stuck to them on conference until they got seven-tenths of a cent put back on it, and as soon as the conferees' report was made Mr. Morse introduced a bill to raise the duty to 2 cents a pound, and proclaimed that he could pass his bill because he had the aid and support of Major McKinley. Of course, I do not know how true that is, but I assume it to be so. When you hear from the farmers of the Northwest in November you will hear something that will surprise you more than any election you ever heard. Listen for the news from Kansas and Minnesota. The farmers of Minnesota have been declaring the McKinley bill to be the crowning infamy of legislation. When you hear from them you will begin to think that Kentucky is not a very good Democratic State after all, because she gives such a small majority.

But there are some more funny things in this bill, gentlemen. For instance, there is an article known as tin plate. For short, we call it tin. No doubt in the campaign of 1888 you had a great deal dinned into your ear about tin. The Democrats, finding that $5,000,000 was taken from the people on tin plate for revenue, that the revenue was not needed, and that every dollar came off of the poor man's bucket and the poor man's milk pan, struck it out of the tariff law, or attempted to strike it out, with the Mills bill. Now, mark you, there was no tin produced in this country—not a dollar's worth when the bill went to the Senate. The Republicans doubled the duty upon tin. That double duty would give the people in this country $10,000,000 a year to build up an infant industry. Well, we Democrats thought the price was too high. The infant was not worth the money.

They passed this exorbitant duty upon tin plate for the purpose of building up an industry. Now, in that connection there is something that perhaps is not generally known. Republicans, when they talk tariff, say they want to protect American labor and American capital. Now it will surprise you to know that all the tin mines are owned by English capital. They own the tin mines of this country; a very trifling percentage, if any, is owned in America.

In Dakota and California they are owned by English capitalists. Nobody can mine there unless it is with English money. They own the mines of Cornwall in their own country. They own the mines of Australia. I want to ask a question: Who is going to get the benefit of this duty on tin? Who proposed to put the duty on tin? Did any one in the city of Canton or Stark County ask that a duty be put on tin? Is there a citizen in the Fifteenth Congressional district that has a dollar invested in a tin mine? Who proposed the duty on tin plate? Where are the conspirators who got together and said: "We will gag $10,000,000 a year out of the American people for the benefit of our tin mines?" [Applause.] American labor protected, American capital protected, and every dollar of capital protected by this infamous tariff is the capital of people living in England, who do no service and pay no taxes in the United States of America. I charge here, in the home of the author of that bill, that there was a deliberate conspiracy to foster and protect English capital at the expense of American poverty and labor. [Cheers and applause.]

"The new tariff law will add from 7 to 30 per cent. to the cost of goods in our line of trade. Jersey cloth will be advanced 30 per cent. above present prices, velvet ribbons 10 to 20 per cent., cotton velvets 10 to 20 per cent., silk and cotton velvets 10 to 20 per cent., silk and cotton plushes 30 per cent., cotton hosiery 15 to 25 per cent., silk hosiery 7 per cent., wool hosiery 10 per cent., wool underwear 10 per cent., French underwear 25 per cent., cotton bath-robos 10 per cent., wool bath-robos 20 per cent., and wool cashmeres 10 to 15 per cent. These figures do not represent nearly the percentage of increased duty, but the actual advance in the price of the article that will be necessary to compensate importers. Where the rates vary the greater rate of advance will apply to the cheaper grades of goods."

The above is what Passavant & Co., New York importers, say about the effect of the new Republican tariff bill on prices in their line of business. Of course these advances will not be made at once, but they will come.

In the face of these higher prices, it will be surprising if the Republicans are not defeated all along the line next month.

The Constitutional convention has concluded that another committee was needed to aid in carrying on the work now in hand. The new committee is known as the "Committee on Style," and Hon. W. J. Hendrick, of Fleming, was selected as Chairman.

River News.

Due up to-night: Bonanza for Pomeroy and Louise for Charleston. Down: Sherry and Bostona.

An exchange says: "The advantage the river has over the railroads in handling heavy freight was shown in an incident a few days ago. A firm in Pittsburg shipped a large consignment of iron and rails to Louisville by river and on the same day sent the same amount by rail to the same place. That shipped via the river arrived five days ahead of that via the railroad, and a portion of the latter did not arrive until ten days afterward."

For the Farmer.

The Michigan Agricultural College orchard has 400 different species of apples. 60 sorts of pears and 40 lots of grapes, peaches and plumbs.

Beets and carrots should be taken from the ground soon. Whatever may be gained in growth is lost in the quality if they have obtained a good marketable size.—Exchange.

The fruit crop fails in England, too. The Court-Journal says there are no native apples to be obtained worth the eating, and the supply of foreign apples falls short of that of previous years. Pears are dear, and, as a rule, tasteless.

The import of eggs for the year ending June 30, 1889, was 15,918,859 dozen, and for the year just ended 15,062,796. This has been about a fair average for several years. The exports for the same time were 380 3/4 dozen for last year and 548,750 for the year just closed. By far the greater part of these imported eggs came from Canada, last year the amount being 13,369,086 dozen.

FLEXIBLE, DAINTY, HEALTHFUL.

Cork Sole Turned Shoes

Are as flexible and dainty as the finest turn, and are the easiest walking Shoe made, the cork acting as a cushion to the foot. The cork being secured in a pocket, thus forming a part of the Shoe, it is impossible for it to work loose or break up. They are also the most healthful Shoe, as CORK IS A NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT AND MOISTURE. It prevents the warmth of the bottom of the foot from radiating and escaping in cold weather, and in warm weather it prevents the heat from the pavements from penetrating the foot.

LADIES wearing our Cork Soled Turned Shoes needn't fear cold, hot, damp or rough walks. They are as flexible and dainty a Shoe as the lightest turned Shoe made. Come and see them; they are a thing of beauty and comfort. Come and see, also, the largest retail stock of Boots and Shoes in the State. Selling at 25 per cent. less than anybody else sells them.

YOU MUST REGISTER

Nov. 10th or 11th, if You Wish to Vote at the Next City Election.

Council Appoints Registration Offi- cers, "and Orders "Fountain Square" Improved

The voters of Maysville who wish to exercise their right of suffrage in city elections hereafter must first register.

The Poyntz law passed at the last session of the Legislature settled that.

The City Council was left no choice in the matter.

The second Monday in November and the day following are the days for the annual registration.

At the adjourned meeting of City Council last evening steps were taken to carry out the provisions of the new law.

Messrs. Cox, Wood, Robinson, Pearce, Blatterman, Pecor, Kehoe, Salisbury,
 Fleming, Rudy and Fitzgerald answered to the roll call and Mr. Triplett afterwards came in.

The act was read to Council by Mr.
 Fitzgerald, after which Mr. Kehoe moved that a call of the wards be made and that Council appoint the registration officers.
 The motion prevailed and the following is a list of officers appointed:

First Ward—R. R. Frost and Joseph Lowry, judges; John W. Thompson, clerk; David Atkinson, sheriff.

Second Ward—Wm. N. Howe and James
 Redmond, Jr., judges; Wm. Adamson, clerk;
 James Sparks, sheriff.

Third Ward—G. W. Blatterman and R. B.
 Lovel, judges; Wm. R. Archdeacon, clerk;
 Henry Ort, sheriff.

Fourth Ward—Jacob Miller and John L.
 Grant, judges; John Short, clerk; Thos. B.
 Chinn, sheriff.

Fifth Ward—George Burrows and James Hendrixson, Jr., judges; Wm. A. Tolle, clerk;
 P. G. Triplett, sheriff.

The 10th and 11th of next month are the days on which the citizens must register in order to vote at the approaching January election.

There was some discussion about having the registration books printed, and the required notices served on the registration officers, but the law directs the City Clerk and City Marshal to attend to these matters, respectively.

Wm. Carver was granted permission to erect a one-story, metal-roof addition to his residence on Third street, Fifth ward.
 Patrick Sammons was granted permission to erect a two-story, metal-roof frame dwelling on January street.

Carr & Tolle filed a petition for permission to erect a one-story, frame, iron-clad, metal-roof cooper shop on their lot on Bridge street. The matter was the subject of considerable discussion. The firm was refused permission at last meeting to erect a frame cooper shop on same lot, and some of the members of the committee to whom the matter was referred, seemed to think this petition to Council was a slam at them. Mr.
 Fitzgerald moved that the petition be granted. He was seconded by Mr.
 Kehoe. Mr. Blatterman moved to lay Mr. Fitzgerald's motion on the table, and was seconded by Mr. Robinson. Mr.
 Blatterman thought that Mrs. Cox, owner of the adjoining property, had some rights that ought to be respected. Mr.
 Wood was opposed to granting the petition. He wanted to protect the interests of the city in a little sewer back of where the building was to be erected. He was afraid the refuse from the cooper shop would choke up this sewer and would create a nuisance. The parties who oppose the petition don't seem to think that a nice, neat iron-clad, metal roof building would be an improvement on the filthy hole where the firm proposes to erect the shop. The matter was finally referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

The matter of improving and beautifying Market street space was again brought up by Mr. Fitzgerald, who has been persistent in his efforts to get rid of the "eye sore." He moved that the Committee on Internal Improvement be ordered to put down a neat curbing and pave the space with concrete, and that the committee also solicit funds from the citizens to aid in the work of improvement. Some of the members seemed to regard the motion lightly, but Mr. Fitzgerald called them down at once and said he was in dead earnest. A committee was appointed several weeks since, on his motion, to solicit funds to improve the space, but nothing had ever been done by that committee. Mr. Blatterman, chairman of the committee, promised to attend to the matter Thursday. President Cox thought sufficient money could be secured if the proper effort was made.
 He said he would head the list with a liberal subscription. After some further discussion Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was adopted.

Mayor Pearce appointed C. D. Newell City Prosecutor for the ensuing year, and the appointment was improved, after which Council adjourned.

 attending the funeral of our deceased
 Brother Samue J. Daugherty. Brethren of sister lodges are respectfully invited to attend. J. C. LOVELL, W. M.
 G. W. SULSER, Secretary.

THERE will be a delightful entertainment at Mitchell's Chapel on Friday evening next (10th). Rev. W. J. E. Cox has kindly consented to exhibit his sciopticon views, accompanied by a lecture on the different subjects presented. A liberal patronage is solicited. The Sunday school is self-sustaining, but some necessary repairs are needed and the price of admission (10 cents) ought to insure a full house.

Where Is Joseph Wright?

Joe. Wright, who moved here not long ago from Orangeburg, disappeared last Saturday, and his wife is anxious to learn something of his whereabouts. The family lives on Front street, near Limestone.
 Wright has two children, the oldest being only a few years of age.

Last Saturday morning, Wright left his rooms about 10 o'clock, telling his wife to have dinner early as he wished to go to the country. She has seen nothing of him since then. She called at the Bulletin office yesterday, and asked that some notice be made of his disappearance.

Wright is about thirty-years of age,
 has brown hair, weighs about 130 pounds and wore a straw hat, dark coat, white shirt and blue pants when last seen.

MINER'S MAXIMS

The fire must be very low when the man who tends it has to blow himself black in the face to keep it going.

Very low grade of Shoes, too; it takes lots of "blowing" to keep them going.

That's the advantage of a reputation.
 It talks for you. Just as capital goes on working while the capitalist sleeps, so reputation goes on working for the merchant while he attends to business.

That's why we are so careful of our reputation.

It's a full grown reputation. It saves us lots of newspaper space and printers' ink. Everybody knows that you can get GOOD Shoes at Miner's, at prices as low as are paid for the not-good Shoes,

CENSUS STATISTICS.

Population of a Number of States and Towns,

WITH INCREASES SINCE 1880.

Ohio Has a Population of 3,666,719; West Virginia, 760,448, and Iowa, 1,906,729. The Governor of Alaska Makes His Report to the Secretary of the Interior—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The census office yesterday announced the following population statistics with increases since 1880:

Ohio—Population of state, 3,666,719; increase 468,657. Cities and towns in Ohio—Dayton, 58,863; increase, 20,190. Greenville, 5,388; increase, 2,004. Kenton, 5,648; increase, 1,708. Piqua, 9,069; increase, 3,083. Springfield, 32,130; increase, 11,405. Urbana, 6,499; increase, 247. Xenia, 8,145; increase, 1,119.

West Virginia—Population of state, 760,448; increase, 141,991. Cities and towns—Charleston, 6,734; increase, 2,542; Huntington, 10,082; increase, 6,908.

Iowa—Population of state, 1,906,729; increase, 283,114. Cities and towns in Iowa as follows: Burlington, 22,528; increase, 8,078. Clinton, 18,629; increase 4,577. Davenport, 25,161; increase, 8,380. Fort Madison, 7,906; increase, 3,227. Iowa City, 6,628; decrease, 1,495. Keokuk, 14,075; increase, 1,958. Lyons, 5,791; increase, 1,696. Muscatine, 11,432; increase, 3,137. Ottumwa, 13,996; increase, 4,992.

City and towns in Minnesota—Duluth, 32,725; increase, 30,080. St. Paul, 133,156; increase, 9,683. Stillwater, 11,339; increase, 2,184.

The difference in the count of St. Paul as announced unofficially on Sept. 13 by Special Agent Wardle, or 133,801, and the official count made by the census office, as announced yesterday, or 133,156, is due solely to duplication of names discovered in the schedules by the special agent in charge, after transmission to the office at Washington. These duplications are chiefly in the work of Special Enumerator John D. Haddon.

New York state. Counties—Delaware, 45,221; increase, 2,500. Orange, 96,682; increase, 8,442. Rockland, 35,055; increase, 7,365. Sullivan, 30,890; decrease, 1,601. Ulster, 86,762; increase, 924. Cities in New York state—Kingston, 21,181; increase, 2,837. Middletown, 11,918; increase, 3,424. Newburg, 23,263; increase, 5,214.

Report From Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Lyman E. Knapp, governor of Alaska, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior says that fourteen government day schools are session, eleven of which were attended wholly by natives.

About 100,000 full sized fur skins were taken by the Alaska Commercial company during the year, and probably half as many more were captured at sea and stolen by poaching vessels.

The codfishing industry in Alaska, though far from insignificant, is only a tithe of what it should be.

The people of Alaska exhibit a strong feeling upon the subject of having a delegate to represent them in congress.

The Greco-Russian church has been established in Alaska many years, and now have twelve churches with resident ordained priests, sixty-seven chapels and about 12,000 members.

The Count of Paris in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Count of Paris arrived here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and with his friends are stopping at the Arlington hotel. He was met at the depot by Gen. Schofield, Howard and Butterfield and escorted to the hotel. Gen. Schofield gave a dinner last night at the Metropolitan club to the count and his friends.

The count and his suite will leave Washington for Norfolk this evening, and returning to Richmond, will spend several days at Fredericksburg, visiting the battlefields of Chancellorsville and The Wilderness. He will then return to Washington a few days later, will visit Antietam and Gettysburg before returning to New York.

Y.; Central Falls, R. I.; Vineland, N. J.; Jeffersonville, Ind.; Laporte, Ind.; Connersville, Ind.; Alameda, Cal.; San Bernardino, Cal.; Owasso, Mich.; West Bay City, Mich.; Nevada, Mo.; West Superior, Wis.; Durham, N. C., and Greensborough, N. C.

Call on National Banks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The comptroller of the currency has called for a report of the condition of National banks at the close of business on Thursday, Oct. 2.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Ten Thousand Dollars Damage Done in Morton County, North Dakota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—A Mandan, N. Dak., special to The Tribune says: By a conservative estimate, over $10,000 damage was done by the late prairie fires in this county. The Riverside Ranch company lost 300 head of stock, worth over $10,000, and one hundred tons of hay, besides a large ranch. Straggling settlers lost hay, cattle, barns and houses.

One farmer named Carl Harm when plowing a break with a valuable team, was overtaken by fire running forty miles an hour. He ran to meet the fire, but the horses ran away from it and were overtaken and burned to death. In the Kilder mountains, northwest of here, several cattlemen have lost everything except scattering bands of cattle, for which there is no feed.

A Sickening Accident.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 8.—One of the most frightful accidents in South Bend for some time occurred Sunday to Johnny Weiss, a lad 11 years old. In company with several other boys he was nutting and climbed a tall tree. In shaking down the nuts he lost his hold and fell a distance of thirty feet, striking with terrific force on his left leg. The bones below the knee were broken in three places and protruded through the flesh and skin, and in one or two places through the boy's trousers. The bones were completely shattered, and the leg presented a frightful sight, and had to be amputated below the knee.

MAIL WAGON ROBBED.

Two Valuable Pouches Taken and Rifled of Their Contents.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 8.—The mail wagon which left the postoffice at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning in charge of Driver John Davis and Mail Agent S. A. Parsons, en route to the Louisville and Nashville depot, was robbed of two mail pouches containing valuable registered packages. Soon after daylight one of the mail sacks was found on a coal float on the river. It had all of the registered matter in it.

Every letter or package containing money or valuables had been cut open and the empty envelopes replaced in the sack. There were letters to Germany, France, Ireland and to all points east of the United States. Not a thing of value was left in the sack. The second mail pouch, containing other matter, has not yet been recovered. It is believed that it was taken further up the river. The postmaster does not think the aggregate amount of the registered packages will exceed $10,000.

RESULT OF A DRUNKEN ROW.

A Chicago Saloon Keeper Fatally Shoots a Shoemaker.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—John St. John, a shoemaker 33 years old, was shot and killed by Marshal Demars, a saloon keeper at 219 Halstead street, early yesterday morning. St. John and his wife and Mrs. Demars, the saloon keeper's sister, had been drinking together for hours. A drunken row occurred and Demars shot St. John twice in the head. Either wound would have been fatal. One bullet entered the forehead and the other plowed its way through the left jaw.

When an officer entered the saloon he found St. John lying on the floor. Mrs. Demars was bending over him and with her arms around his neck was being literally bathed in the blood that flowed from his wounds. She was drunk and refused to be taken away from the dead man. Mrs. Demars was also drunk, but the saloon keeper appeared to be sober. Both women and the man were arrested.

Suicide Guarded by His Dog.

MONTPELIER, Ind., Oct. 8.—Harvey Holley, a young man 23 years old, living five miles north of this city, yesterday went in the woods with his gun and dog hunting. One mile from his home he sat down on a log, took a rope and tied it to the trigger of his gun, put his foot on the rope, the gun to his right ear, and pulled the rope with his foot, when the gun went off, blowing the top of his head off. A searching party found him to-day with his faithful dog guarding him, and it had to be clubbed off before it would allow them to come near him. No cause is known why he killed himself.

Mistook His Mother-in-Law for a Burglar.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—There have been numerous burglaries in the Northern part of this county within the past two weeks and the people have become much excited concerning them. At North Lansing Mrs. Samuel Atwater got up last night to extinguish a light which had been left burning to keep burglars away. Her son-in-law, Walter Havens, heard her moving about, and mistaking her for a burglar, shot her dead. Mr. Havens is a collector for a southern firm and frequently has large sums of money in the house.

Boot and Shoe Dealer Skips Out.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—M. Benjamin, a boot and shoe dealer, is said to have decamped from the city, leaving an indebtedness of about $20,000. Before leaving the city he sold what goods he had on hand to various dealers in the city. Although Benjamin was a stranger, having come here recently from Australia, he succeeded in convincing the houses of which he bought that he was in good circumstances.

Railway Superintendents.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The American Society of Railway Superintendents met yesterday at the hotel Brunswick. Eight new members were elected. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, H. S. Goodwin, of the Lehigh Valley road; first vice president, R. G. Fleming, of the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad; treasurer, R. J. Sully.

Brigade Burner Caught.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 8.—Charles Shearer was arrested by the sheriff of Shelby county, O., on a charge of arson. It is claimed that he burned a private bridge over a canal in that county about a year ago, out of spite against the farmers for whose benefit the structure was built. He agreed to return with the officer without a requisition.

Missing With a Threat of Suicide.

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 8.—Charles O. McCammon, a grocer of this city, left his home Sunday morning to go to the woods after chestnuts. Monday morning his wife received a letter from him saying that he intended to commit suicide. Nothing has been heard of him since. His store has been closed by attachments.

A Protest of Vesselmen.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Capt. J. S. Dunham left here yesterday afternoon for Washington to lay before Assistant Secretary of War Grant the protest of vesselmen and other business men of this city against the leasing of the government pier at the mouth of the river to the Illinois Central Railroad company.

Hotel Falls.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—The Walnut Street house made an assignment at 11:53 a. m. yesterday, to W. W. Pease. The assets are $4,000; liabilities, $6,000 to $7,000. The proprietor is Mary C. Magaw. Preferences are given to the amount of $3,500. The cause of the assignment was dull trade.

Stubs Burrows Captured.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 8.—A dispatch from Linden, Ala., says that Rube Burrows, the train robber, was captured by John McDuffie, near Myrtlewood, Marengo county, yesterday evening and is now in jail at Linden.

Another Victim for Electricity.

ALBANY, Oct. 8.—The court of appeals has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Schiok Jugigo, the Japanese murderer sentenced to suffer death.

Outrage and Robbery.

ROCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 8.—Charles W. Wiland, a farmer living near this village, on returning to his home found his wife bound, gagged, and in a serious condition. A parcel containing $200 was gone. Mrs. Wiland has not yet been able to give an account of the outrage, and there is no clew to the perpetrator of the crime.

Comet Discovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—A faint comet was discovered by Professor F. R. Barnard at the Lick observatory at 9 o'clock 46 minutes last evening. Its position was R. A. 19 hours, 12 minutes, 26 degrees south, motion easterly.

The Weather.

MISS FLAVIN

WILL DELIVER A LECTURE ON

FATHER DAMIEN,

The Hawaiians, their Kingdom, and the History of Leprosy.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 13,

At the Court House, for the benefit of the Sisters of the Visitation of Maysville. Lecture to commence at 8 o'clock p. m.

ADMISSION 50 CENTS.

LECTURE.

I propose to try to help raise a fund to erect a monument in memory of Lincoln, Davis, Grant and Lee. It is time to bury the bloody shirt so deep that it can never again rise to the surface. Let us, my good people, endeavor to do something to help restore that unity of which we were once proud to boast. I believe that the first step to be taken is to build a monument somewhere near Richmond, in memory of this great quartette.

I will deliver a lecture on Wednesday evening, Oct. 8th, at the Christian Church in Germantown, Tuesday, Oct. 14th, at the court house in Maysville and Wednesday, Oct. 15th, at Presbyterian Church in Mayslick. Lecture to commence at 8 o'clock p. m. Admission, 35 cents.

Let all good people who are interested in restoring peace, harmony and good will toward one another, be present at these lectures at their respective places, the proceeds of which are to form the nucleus of this fund.

R. M. CALDWELL.

The title of this lecture is "The Codex of the Great Quartette; or the Healing of an Old Sore."
